

CALL FOR PAPERS IN RELATION TO

Proceedings of the 3rd International Conference Translation Times 2023

TRANSLATION TIMES. TEXTS, CONTEXTS AND ENVIRONMENTS

Editors: Titela Vilceanu, Yves Gambier, Ramunè Kasperè, Nadina Vişan

Bucharest: Pro Universitaria

“There is a danger (or an illusion) of conceptualising translation (and the translator) in monolithic or universal terms, by giving priority or even exclusive domination to our own concept” (Gambier, 2018: 19). Acknowledging the complex and changing nature of translation practices and translation studies, we have to note that translation has become ambiguous, and that this ambiguity reverberates on other related concepts such as text and context / environment. “In three decades, a new work environment has shaken up the translator’s world. New types of translators are emerging, with a new hierarchy between them, in parallel with a multiplication of labels created for translation” (Gambier and Kasperè, 2021).
